KARL HESS, ROBERT LEFEVRE, PAUL JACOB SLATED TO SPEAK '85 FOFCON Features Ray Bradbury

Once again, it is time for another Future of Freedom Conference, the thirteenth in a series since 1969 when Prof. Ludwig von Mises was the featured speaker. This year's conference will get off to a start on Friday night with a Celebrity Cocktail Party. Authors like Karl Hess, Robert LeFevre, Barry Reid, Anthony Hargis, George Smith, John Pugsley, and others will be on hand to sign their books. Later that night, George Smith, author of The Case Against God will debate former English Marxist David Ramsay Steele on "Natural Rights: Do They Exist?" David Steele, a Marxist in England for over 10 years, is a free-lance writer living in Chicago. The MC will be Alan Bock, editorial editor of the Orange County Register.

Both Saturday and Sunday are packed with events. On Saturday, there is a luncheon for science fiction author Ray Bradbury. The lunch will be outside in Griswold's Hotel patio. Live music will be provided by an Irish/Country/Folksong band. Bradbury, author of Fahrenheit 451 and The Martian Chronicles will speak on "The Invisible Revolutions in Our Society."

Saturday night will see the tribute banquet honoring Karl Hess, a former presidential speech writer for U.S. Senator Goldwater, and Presidents Nixon and Ford. A former Newsweek editor, Hess is now considered a "decentralist." He authored the award-winning Playboy article "The Death of Politics" (1969) and has published several books, including Dear America (see page 8). Also, the fourth annual H.L. Mencken Awards will be presented Jeff Rigenbach, of the Free Press Association. Many of the "Menckie" winners, who are well-known columnists, authors and cartoonists, will be on hand to accept the awards.

On Sunday during the luncheon, Karl Hess will speak about "Liberty's Lifestyles: Decentralization of Technology."

Decentralization of Technology.

Carrying out the conference's informal theme focusing on "The Future of the Freedom Movement," a strategy forum promises to be one of the more interesting conference events. Moderated by draft registration resister Paul Jacobs, who will kick off the panel with a keynote speech, six longtime activists will explore a variety of interrelated questions about the future of freedom: Is there reason for optimism or pessimism? Can something be done?

KARL HESS IS HONORED, 'MENCKIES' ARE AWARDED

On Saturday night, October 26, Karl Hess will be presented with the Future of Freedom Award for 1985 for his contributions to the cause of liberty. Past receivers of the award have been Robert LeFevre, Dr. Nathaniel Branden, Prof. John Hospers, Prof. Murray Rothbard and Ayn Rand.

Hess have been one of the most influential writers in America. He was Senator Barry Goldwater's speechwriter during the 1964 presidential election. Hess coined the phrase "Extremism in the defense of liberty is no vice." As a speechwriter for both Presidents Nixon and Ford, Hess changed directions and turned against the Washington D.C. establishment. He began to protest the draft and stopped paying taxes. It was at this time that he wrote his famous and award-winning Playboy article "The Death of Politics."

A former editor of Newsweek, Hess has written and co-authored many books, Dear America, Community Technology, In A Cause That Will Triumph, End Of The Draft and Neighborhood Power. Hess lives in West Virginia in an underground house that he built himself.

Some of the people who will pay tribute to Hess are Robert LeFevre, author and newspaper columnist; John Pugsley, author of Common Sense Economics; and Alan Bock, editorial editor of the Orange County Register. The evening will kick off with a no-host cash bar and social hour from 7:00 p.m. to 8:00 pm. This is an excellent opportunity to meet and socialize with speakers and conference attendees. Dinner starts at 8:00 p.m.

RAY BRADBURY: PROFILE OF AN OPTIMIST

By Michael Grossberg

Optimist (op-ti-mist) n. A man or woman who knows everything a pessimist knows—and still wants to go on living.

That's how Ray Bradbury—one of the most exciting and inspiring speakers at this year's Future of Freedom Conference—defines an optimist.

The definition fits Bradbury himself perfectly. For the 64-year-old author of Fahrenheit 451, The Martian Chronicles, and Something Wicked This Way Comes predicts a world without nuclear war, poverty, famine, disease and, possibly most important, without what he disparagingly calls the "fifth horseman of the Apocalypse"—despair.

Despite the gloomy predictions of all the fashionable doomsayers of the past decade, "America works," Bradbury says enthusiastically. "We're magnificent. Very few countries have the freedom to let you change your life. We have forgotten how wonderful we are."

Evidence for America's continuing success as an unprecedented experiment in individual liberty comes from "the 400,000 to 800,000 immigrants a year still giving up their citizenship to come here, proving that the promise at the base of the Statue of Liberty is still fecund."

Only in America can you quit your job, get in your car without getting permission or telling anyone, and move on to start a new life, Bradbury observes. "There are no automobiles in Russia. They're afraid you'll leave town."

One of the things that makes America the best country in the world is its underrated, often-criticized middle class, Bradbury believes. "I think we're pretty great." Bradbury praises California's passage of the tax-cutting Proposition 13, pointing out the injustice of middle class people working for a lifetime to own a house and then being thrown out of it because of taxes.

Whatever its flaws, democracy gives citizens "a chance to fire politicians," Bradbury says, adding that people need such checks against government. "If you give power to people, after a while you've got to fire them out of it."

Making his case against the prospects of nuclear war, Bradbury argues ironically that due to the stupidity of politicians, if nuclear weapons were abolished, nothing would deter governments from launching a conventional world war, easily killing at least 50 million people. "There will be no major war for the next 60 to 70 years because of that great thing, nuclear power, which is going to teach people to behave."

While Bradbury clearly values personal liberty and remains skeptical about the unchecked power of coercive government, he does not consider himself a libertarian. Yet he has written one of the classic libertarian novels of the twentieth century: Fahrenheit 451.

Angered by the book-burning tactics of the McCarthy era of the 1950s, Bradbury got the idea for his novel and wrote it in just nine frenzied days. "I'm a sprinter," he explains. "If you do things quickly, you don't have time to squash the subconscious."

In his dystopian tale of a future dictatorship, "firemen" do not put out fires to prevent the flames from spreading, but instead burn books to prevent the spread of ideas that would challenge that dictatorship's stagnant TV culture—an imaginative concretization of Bradbury's anti-censorship theme. Last year, Fahrenheit 451 was inducted by the Libertarian Futurist Society into the Prometheus Hall of Fame, joining such other acknowledged libertarian classics as Ayn Rand's Atlas Shrugged, Robert Heinlein's The Moon is a Harsh Mistress, and George Orwell's 1984.

Like these other libertarian writers, Bradbury understands the vital connection between authoritarianism and cultural/scientific stagnation, on the one hand, and between liberty and progress, on the other.

In Bradbury's view, recent scientific progress, largely made possible by the greater freedom of thought and freedom of inquiry in the West, offers additional grounds for optimism.

"We've licked death and we're going to lick it even more," he says, noting that less than half a century ago, high mortality rates meant that half the children in each family could not expect to live to adulthood. "It was horrible. Parents couldn't let themselves love their children too much, because they might lose them."

He's even more optimistic about the potential benefits of future technological progress. "There's nothing greater than space travel, which can ensure our immortality for millions of years, if we can only bring it off."

"We are the Wilderness People," Bradbury says, echoing the theme of the scenario he created for the Spaceship Earth building at Walt Disney's Epcot Center. "First we crossed the wilderness of water to reach America. Then we crossed the wilderness of land to settle America. And now we are moving into the wilderness of space to live forever."

Bradbury has already "touched the stars"—and quite possibly ensured his own literary immortality—through the more than 400 short stories, 15 novels and dozens of poems and plays he's written, from Illustrated Man to I Sing the Body Electric. His stories and poems have appeared in The New Yorker, Omni, Playboy, Harper's, Saturday Evening Post and Life magazines. Among his latest efforts are his first novel in 22 years, a murder-suspense thriller scheduled for publication this fall; a screenplay Omenemo, written for producer of The Empire Strikes Back; and an opera for the Seattle Opera Company.

Many of his most popular works have been adapted into movies and TV shows, including Fahrenheit 451 (a late 1960s movie starring Julie Christie and directed by Francois Truffaut, which might be shown during the Future of Freedom Conference); the recent movie Something Wicked This Way Comes; and his current Home Box Office short story anthology TV series Ray Bradbury Theatre. Over the years, Bradbury has done a good bit of work himself in Hollywood, writing the screenplay for John Huston's film production of Moby Dick, writing a good many of the Alfred Hitchcock Presents TV shows, and working with Rod Serling in the development of The Twilight Zone.

Bradbury didn't start out writing masterpieces, however. Too poor to go to college or even to afford to buy books, Bradbury used local libraries as his university, educating himself to master not only knowledge, but also the mysterious intuitive process of creative writing. After graduating from Los Angeles High School, he had no car, few clothes, and had to live at home with his parents. So he hawked newspapers on the streets, earning about $10 a week—and, in his spare time, wrote.

"I started writing when I was 12, and everything I wrote was bad for 10 years," he recalls. Then one day, when he was 22, Bradbury knew that he had written his first good short story: The Lake, later reprinted in The October Country. He wept for joy.

"That's when I knew I was a writer," he says, admitting that he still had to overcome fears of rejection in order to submit his early stories to major magazines. Finally, at the urging of a friend, he submitted three of his stories in August, 1945, to Collier's, Mademoiselle and Charm magazines. What happened, Bradbury proudly recalls, was "three sales in three days by an unknown writer with no agent."

Bradbury learned a lesson from his experiences as a struggling writer, a lesson he believes applies to everyone, no matter what their career aspirations: "the way you qualify yourself for work you want to do is by playing at it for years and years."

Often invited by major companies and entrepreneurs to come talk to their junior executives to "remind them who they are," Bradbury urges people to search within themselves for the "genetic gyroscope" of their natural inclinations.

"Have you been listening? Have you been searching? What's the use of living if you can't find something fulfilling at least once a week? Go do something that you've always wanted to do and never did. Dream yourself into the future."

Appropriately enough, Bradbury's Future of Freedom Conference talk "The Invisible Revolution in Our Society"—scheduled for the noon luncheon on Saturday, Oct. 26—will encourage us all to "dream" ourselves into a future of freedom. Capturing our imagination with his infectious enthusiasm, Bradbury will offer an inspiring and optimistic vision of future possibilities.

Michael Grossberg is a newspaper reporter and movie/theatre critic for a Southern California newspaper. He interviewed Bradbury when he appeared at a local college.

Surrounded by well-wishers after a recent talk at a Southern California college, the popular Ray Bradbury signs autographs and answers the questions of his many fans.

KARL HESS was Sen. Barry Goldwater's speechwriter for the 1964 presidential campaign. Hess has also written for Presidents Nixon and Ford before becoming disillusioned with the Washington D.C. establishment. See "Karl Hess Honored..." story on front page.

RAY BRADBURY, author of Fahrenheit 451, The Martian Chronicles, The Illustrated Man, and Something Wicked This Way Comes, has written 400 short stories and 15 novels. Movie and TV script writer, Bradbury has worked with film director John Huston, Alfred Hitchcock and Rod Serling of The Twilight Zone. See "Ray Bradbury: Profile of An Optimist" on page 7.

Paul Jacob

Robert Poole

PAUL JACOB is one of 18 individuals who refused to register for the Selective Service. An articulate speaker, Jacob was the first chairman of the Arkansas Libertarian Party. When Jacob was indicted by the Justice Department, he decided to go underground, and spent over a year hiding from the authorities. He wandered across the country, living at the homes of anti-draft supporters. On Dec. 6, 1984, Jacob was arrested by the FBI and was put on trial. His case is on appeal.

See story by Paul Jacob on page 7.

BILL SCHWEIGERT, a National Guardian Angel, is the leader of the Hollywood chapter. Schweigert works directly with the founder and national leader of the Guardian Angels, Curtis Silwa, based in New York City. Employed part-time as a security guard, Schweigert has worked in security for many years, providing protection for both the Democratic and Republican Conventions, and the 1984 L.A. Olympics. He also followed the Pope during his visit in Canada.

Recently, Schweigert was involved in setting up a Guardian Angels' chapter in Tijuana Mexico, in an attempt to protect Mexican immigrants from robbery and rape by bandits. The Mexican authorities kicked the Guardian Angels out of the country.

Marshall Fritz

Robert LeFevre

ROBERT POOLE is president of the Reason Foundation and editor-in-chief of Reason magazine. Poole is the editor of three books: Instead of Regulation, Defending A Free Society and his latest Unnatural Monopolies (see story on page 7). Poole's monthly newspaper column, "Fiscal Watchdog" appears in over 175 newspapers across the country. He is a radio commentator on the series "Perspective on the Economy."

ROBERT LeFEVRE has been a fountainhead of the West coast libertarian movement almost since its inception. He is also one of the most controversial libertarians on the issues of justice and pacifism. LeFevre has had an extensive career in both broadcasting and journalism. In 1956 he founded the Freedom School in Colorado Springs, Colorado (later renamed Rampart College and moved to Santa Ana, California). He is the author of numerous books including This Bread is Mine, The Nature of Man and His Government, The Philosophy of Ownership, Lift Her Up Tenderly and the booklets Good Government: Hope or Illusion? and Does Government Protection Protect?

LINDA ABRAMS, an attorney, is a member of the Rampart Institute Board. She has worked on several well-known court cases involving violations of the U.S. Constitution by government agencies.

Dr. Robert Simon

Barry Reid

BARRY REID is the founder of Eden Press in Fountain Valley, California, which is the most authoritative source of information relating to change of identity and identification records. Reid's first book was The Paper Trip, a unique approach to personal privacy through a change of identity. His other books include The Paper Trip II and Privacy.

In 1976 he was interviewed by 60 Minutes on how to create alternative identities. In 1979, the U.S. Justice Department, annoyed at his activities and books, wrote that Barry Reid is a "hero to the underworld." He graduated from UCLA with a B.A. in Political Science. See story on page 9.

ROBERT R. SIMON, M.D., Assistant Director of Emergency Medicine Residency and Assistant Professor of Emergency Medicine at the University of California at Los Angeles (UCLA), was the first American doctor to enter Aghanistan since the Soviet invasion on December 26, 1979.

In May, 1984 Dr. Simon slipped through the rugged mountain passes into Afghanistan on foot, wearing native Afghan garb to avoid successfully being spotted by Soviet helicopter gunships. Accompanied by the Mujahideen and Afghan doctors, he walked fifteen miles a day in extreme temperatures to treat the sick and wounded, and to train the Afghans to diagnose and treat wounds and diseases themselves. See story on Simon on page 9.

GEORGE H. SMITH has spoken frequently at the Future of Freedom Conferences and has proved to be one of our most popular speakers. Author of Atheism: The Case Against God, he studied philosophy at the University of Arizona. He is a research fellow for the Institute for Humane Studies, which is funding his new book on voluntary schooling vs. government schooling. Smith has lectured extensively for the CATO Institute.

David R. Steele

DAVID RAMSAY STEELE was born in Scotland and lived in England until 1981. He was a leader in the Socialist Party of Great Britain, giving speeches to workers in support of Marxism. According to Steele, the writings of Prof. Ludwig von Mises had a profound effect on him. By the mid-1970s, Steele had renounced Marxism as "impractical."

A graduate at the University of Hull in northern England, Steele received his B.A. in sociology. His new book, Marx and Mises: Socialism and Economic Calculation, published by Open Court Publishing will soon be available to the public.

JEFF RIGGENBACH, is a professional writer and broadcaster. Producer of the Byline radio program which is heard on 175 radio stations, Rigenbach has written for the Los Angeles Times, Los Angeles Herald Examiner and the New York Times. He has contributed to Reason and Inquiry and was the executive editor of The Libertarian Review. He is a lecturer at CATO Institute.

MARSHALL FRITZ, a former IBM computer salesman, is the founder of Self-Government Advocates, located in Fresno, California. Fritz was the Executive Director of the California Libertarian Party. He received his BA in Business Administration from the Cal State University, Fullerton.

LIVE MUSIC AT FOFCON DURING LUNCHEONS

Live music (Irish/country folksongs) will be performed by MICHELLE FELDMAN and WILL TANAKA at both the Saturday and Sunday luncheons outside in the patio. Hopefully, this will give an outdoor cafe atmosphere to the luncheons.

Michelle Feldman began her musical career as a classical violinist and started playing Irish fiddle tunes in college. She plays for the New England contra dancers and Irish ceili and step dancers in the local Southern California area. She is also the fiddler for "Fire At Midnight," a group that presents a unique blend of traditional and contemporary music.

THE MOST IMPORTANT MONEY/POWER ROMANTIC-LOVE DISCOVERY SINCE THE INDUSTRIAL REVOLUTION

Frank R. Wallace — Interviewed by NTP Columnist Eric Savage

An entire new field of knowledge has been discovered by Dr. Frank R. Wallace*, a former Senior Research Chemist for E.I. du Pont de Nemours & Co. Since mid-1976, Dr. Wallace researched Psychuous Advantages to uncover a powerful array of new knowledge called Neo-Tech. That new knowledge allows any person to prosper monetarily, personally, romantically, and financially anywhere in the world, even during personal or financial hard times, inflation, boomtimes, recession, depression, war. I interviewed Dr. Wallace about Neo-Tech at his home in southern Nevada. Below are edited portions of the interview that explain his discovery:

NTP: What is Neo-Tech? How can I benefit from it?

WALLACE: Neo-Tech is a new, scientific method for capturing major financial and personal advantages everywhere. Neo-Tech is a new knowledge that has nothing to do with positive thinking, religion, or anything mystical. Once a person is exposed to Neo-Tech, he can quietly profit from anyone — anywhere, anytime. He can prosper almost anywhere on earth and succeed under almost any economic or political condition. Combined with Psychuous Advantages, Neo-Tech applies to all money and power gathering techniques — to all situations involving the transfer of money, power, or love.

Believe it or not, I first sensed Neo-Tech through poker — the money game, the international strategy game. Strange how a discovery so important as Neo-Tech started with something so restricted as poker. Indeed, poker is just one rather insignificant area involving the transfer of money in which a person can profit through Neo-Tech.

Subsequently, I pursued Neo-Tech beyond cards to uncover far greater advantages in competitive situations involving work, investments, speculating, business, politics, and personal relationships. Neo-Tech applies to all winning situations: It is a new, dramatic approach for collecting unbeatable advantages everywhere.

Neo-Tech has its roots in the constant financial pressures and incentives to develop the easiest, most profitable methods of gaining advantages. Over the decades, all successful salesmen, businessmen, politicians, writers, lawyers, entrepreneurs, investors, speculators, gamers, and Casanovas have secretly searched for shortcuts that require little skill yet contain the invisible effectiveness of the most advanced techniques. I identified those shortcuts and honed them into practical formats called Neo-Tech.

NTP: Can people really get rich by using Neo-Tech? Or is Neo-Tech like cheating; is it a metaphor for cardsharps, Don Juans, con artists, Trilateralists, dishonest merchants, greedy politicians?

WALLACE: Definitely not. Neo-Tech is honest and ethical; it is not based on fraud, collusion, gall, hustling or swindling as are most cheating techniques and con jobs. Indeed, Neo-Tech requires no special skill, devices, or nerve. Neo-Tech requires no risk or changes in life style — only a new scientific knowledge that generates profits and power. Moreover, Neo-Tech renders deception and cheating ploys so obsolete that they are no longer an important threat.

Neo-Tech will someday dominate most winning situations as it spreads into business and personal relationships. The Neo-Tech person is very different from the cheater. In fact, the Neo-Tech person displays characteristics opposite to those of traditional cheaters as shown by this comparison chart I have here in my notes:

About Dr. Frank R. Wallace

During his 12 years at Du Pont's Brandywine and Chestnut Run Laboratories, Dr. Wallace was involved in major research projects, including the catalytic conversion of salt and sand into chlorine and water glass to reduce the cost of raw materials for industry (Wallace holds the basic patent); the development of commercial flexible nylon used in the auto industry to improve fuel and brake systems; flame retardant nylon to improve the safety of electronic products; fluorocarbon wire coating to improve the efficiency and safety of aircrafts, space vehicles, and missiles; high-definition acrylics to reduce the cost and enhance the appearance of signs; and medical uses for man-made fibers, including new leads to disease cures. Dr. Wallace is a member of Sigma Xi, the honorary scientific research society. He is the discoverer of Neo-Tech, the author of several books, the author of many magazine articles (including the first-place national award-winning article about the bicameral brain), a former editor of a national magazine and SEC-licensed security advisor. In addition, he is a marathon runner, a former professional card player, and the author of the world's best-selling poker manual, "Poker", Warner Books, New York, 359 pages.

The Traditional Cheater

Controlled by surroundings

"When should I do it" feeling — cheats at every opportunity

Keeps people from watching him closely. Uses distractions and concealments

Causes suspicion with cheating moves. — fears all opponents

Makes victims unhappy while creating tense, traumatic atmospheres

Worries that his cheating will be seen

Fears his telltale characteristics

Worries about the consequences of being caught in the act

Is negative in every way

NTP: Their characteristics are opposites.

WALLACE: True. And their differences go much further. In or out of cards, alert or knowledgeable people can usually detect deception and cheating — unless the cheater has acquired great skill through years of laborious practice, experience, and remembering tricks. Even then, the expert cheater must execute each strategy perfectly, every time, putting himself under heavy, burn-out pressure. Thus, if he makes one slip or a wrong move, he becomes obviously guilty once caught, leaving him to face the consequences. That fear of being caught haunts most cheaters and overwhelms countless potential cheaters.

By contrast, Neo-Tech requires little or no skill. And the Neo-Tech person's techniques are invisible. Indeed, his tactics are so potent and honest that they eliminate all suspicion. He can never be caught in any questionable act. Moreover, he can use Neo-Tech honestly for both defense and profit. ...The Neo-Tech man works in relaxed harmony with his natural characteristics.

NTP: Is that what makes Neo-Tech easy and safe?

WALLACE: Yes, Neo-Tech is so harmonious that no one can ever detect a person using its techniques. And once a person understands those techniques, he can easily and safely beat any opponent. That's why the Neo-Tech person will flourish.

NTP: Who exactly is the Neo-Tech person?

WALLACE: He's a person of quiet power — a person who cannot lose. He can control anyone unknowledgeable about Neo-Tech — man or woman.

NTP: What actually makes him so effective?

WALLACE: The Neo-Tech person has the power to render others helpless, even wipe them out, but he wisely chooses to use just enough of his power to give him unbeatable casino-like advantages in all endeavors. His Neo-Tech maneuvers are so subtle that they can be executed with casual confidence. His hidden techniques let him win consistently and comfortably — year after year, decade after decade. Eventually, Neo-Tech men and women will quietly rule everywhere.

NTP: Can I cash in on Neo-Tech in cards?

WALLACE: As I said before, cards are only a small and relatively unimportant aspect of Neo-Tech. Still, anyone can quickly become a player who cannot lose. Indeed, through Neo-Tech techniques, an average player can increase his advantage so greatly that he can break most games at will. He can win fast and big — in poker, blackjack, bridge, and gin. But he usually avoids winning too fast in order to extract maximum, long-term money from opponents. With Neo-Tech, he fears no opponents, not even cheaters. He can quickly impoverish them, or anyone else he chooses; and they'll never know what hit them. He can immediately and consistently acquire large amounts of money. ...But why bother with cards? Much greater profits are available by using Neo-Tech in the real world.

NTP: In the real world, can I really profit from Neo-Tech?

WALLACE: A person can use Neo-Tech to immediately gain advantages needed to prosper in business and in personal relationships. Additionally, he can never be taken advantage of again in any business transaction, investment, or personal contact. His Neo-Tech knowledge protects him. It arms him with a sword and a shield. Neo-Tech knowledge is the best insurance policy anyone could own: Within days a person with

NEO-TECH DELIVERS PROFITS AND POWER BY TEACHING...

In Cards (Where Neo-Tech was first discovered)	In the Real World (Where Neo-Tech really pays off)
How to become an unbeatable winner	How to gain advantages needed for financial and social success
How to command winnings	How to command profits and respect
How to control any player, game, or even a network of games	How to control business deals and emotional situations to acquire money and power. How to command love. How to regain lost love.
How to quickly wipe out opponents	How to subjugate a business or personal adversary
How to win fast	How to quickly profit through specific business actions or personal relationships
How to slowly drain opponents, game after game	How to gain long-range strategic advantages that allow one to win in business or personal situations, year after year.
How to extract maximum money from opponents	How to gain maximum profits in business, investments, and speculations. How to gain the maximum benefits from social or personal relationships.
How to easily detect, reject, or beat cheaters without any hassle...how to destroy cheaters	How to easily detect and beat dishonesty in business or personal relationships...how to profit from people who might hurt you
How to gain a substantial	How to become successful in income, year after year business, investments, and personal life by using Neo-Tech to find permanent prosperity

NTP: Your chart shows that I can use Neo-Tech to control almost anyone, coming or going.

WALLACE: That's right. Neo-Tech transfers money, power, and prestige from the uninformed to the informed. Those informed can automatically take control of most situations involving money and power. But that chart ends where the real value of Neo-Tech begins, ranging from winning a lover to becoming exceptionally competent, to becoming a key employee, to gaining substantial raises, to predicting stock prices...even gold and silver prices.

NTP: Neo-Tech can predict stock prices?

WALLACE: Yes, quite reliably with the Neo-Tech factor. In fact, Neo-Tech is the most direct route to prosperity. A lot of people will become wealthy and happy using Neo-Tech.

NTP: How quickly will Neo-Tech spread?

WALLACE: The best way to answer that is to realize how Neo-Tech sharply reduces the time and effort to profit consistently. Begin with cards, for example. What is happening in cards today reflects what will happen tomorrow in the real world. Within days after gaining this knowledge, people can safely bankrupt opponents — or slowly profit from them, week after week. People can immediately extract money and prestige not only from any card game — from the easiest Friday-night game to the toughest professional games — but from any competitive, personal, business or money situation. Yet, no one suspects the Neo-Tech man or woman. Likewise, people can benefit from business and investment endeavors — from dealing with the boss to major financial deals. People can also benefit from any relationship — from gaining the respect of one's peers or superiors to capturing the love of one's desire or regaining the lost love of an ex-partner. Within a week, an ordinary person can become a professional Neo-Tech practitioner. So naturally, as people gain this knowledge, they will immediately begin using its techniques because they are irresistibly easy and overwhelmingly potent. Thus, as people find out about Neo-Tech, it will automatically spread throughout the world as the most potent discovery since the Industrial Revolution.

Part II

THE NEO-TECH DISCOVERY

Neo-Tech is a newly discovered catalyst for profiting in any competitive, personal, or money situation. Neo-Tech puts one at the ultimate advantage.

As a research scientist as well as the author of the world's best-selling poker manual, Dr. Wallace first became aware of Neo-Tech through poker. In 1976, while researching and writing an addendum for his best-selling book, Frank Wallace used his world-known expertise to piece together an unbeatable, seemingly innocent approach being used by certain professionals in high-stake games. Wallace was detecting the beginnings of Neo-Tech.

Gradually, Wallace and his two co-workers uncovered, one step at a time, the full power of Neo-Tech, which became ever more meaningful as they discovered whole new realms of concepts much more powerful than those used in cards. Those new and powerful concepts applied to everyday situations — situations in which power makes an enormous difference — in business, social situations, investment decisions, speaking and writing situations, romance, and all other competitive situations. Below are edited segments taken from Wallace's personal diary during his research:

Dr. Wallace's Diary Notes

July 1976

I've discovered the never-before-revealed nature of effortless winning while playing poker. This discovery purges the false notions about winning in cards and eliminates its mystical aura. While identifying the origins of that knowledge, I'm grasping its powerful nature.

I feel an addicting power as I begin to do the seemingly impossible. With ease I can make maneuvers to beat all opponents. The techniques come from an ominous new knowledge. ...I've named this knowledge, Neocheating.

August 1976

Neocheating is something new — something frightening. I'm astonished at the quickness that I'm learning to acquire winning situations. I feel uneasy about learning to win so effortlessly and quickly — all in a few days. With this lethal knowledge, think what a person could do to his opponents in a matter of days or weeks.

September 1976

Neocheating can be executed in peace and without the knowledge of others. I've discovered effective maneuvers for controlling every outcome of every situation. Neocheating is easy and safe, yet it is an unbeatable form of winning. Is Neocheating truly an unbeatable weapon? That is a real danger.

While fearing this knowledge, I'm glad to be discovering Neocheating before anyone else. And, as a professional card player, I feel the responsibility. Already I have the knowledge to quietly beat even the most skilled and experienced opponents. This knowledge allows everyday players to control opponents at will.

October 1976

I've discovered easy ways to nullify moves made by opponents. I'm struck by the importance of understanding Neocheating. I need that understanding to prosper in situations involving competition and money. I sense that this new knowledge could be incredibly profitable beyond the card tables.

While discovering more and more invisible techniques that deliver unbeatable advantages in poker, blackjack, and other games, I'm thinking more deeply of how these concepts apply everywhere. I'm grasping how these concepts can be used honestly — without cheating — to gain money and power in business, investments, speculating, gaming, the professions, politics, and personal life. ...I've named this knowledge when used honestly beyond cards, Neo-Tech.

November 1976

With this knowledge, what could a person do in the real world without the boundaries of a card game? Who is the Neo-Tech practitioner? He is a new breed of person who will eventually rule the world. A chill spreads over me. The closer uninformed people observe a Neo-Tech person, the more reassured they become. The Neo-Tech person appears as a most trustworthy person. Yet he knows exactly how to win. He creates advantages that remain unnoticeable to his opponents while delivering maximum long-range profits to himself. Quietly he applies his power in small strategic doses to gain steady advantages and profits while keeping everyone happy. Thus, the Neo-Tech practitioner is impossible to stop and is hard to avoid. With his subtle yet unbeatable advantages, he can comfortably, legally, and honestly control all aspects of life.

December 1976

Is Neocheating ironically becoming an honest tool through Neo-Tech? Neocheating in or out of cards is dishonest and involves gaining easy money and power over opponents through techniques that meet two criteria: (1) ease of execution, and (2) invisible or undetectable. But Neo-Tech in or out of cards is honest and involves gaining easy advantages and power over others by meeting two similar criteria: (1) easy to execute, and (2) not vulnerable to detection or assailable as dishonest.

Once those two criteria are established, winning Neo-Tech formats can be established for almost any situation. With such formats, a person not only captures unbeatable advantages over others, but commands shortcuts to profits, power, and romance.

But I'm realizing how many of the most wealthy, powerful, and admired people today use various Neocheating formats without ever realizing it — without ever being suspected. I call those people Master Neocheaters. They acquire extreme power and wealth. Such people include trusted heads of state, powerful political leaders, charismatic idols, famous religious leaders, many psychiatrists and psychologists, Trilateralist bankers, many of the best-known TV commentators, key journalists, influential editorial writers, Hollywood actors and actresses, many well-known authors, certain prestigious professors, many successful lawyers, master spies, highly visible environmentalists and consumer advocates, politically or socially oriented scientists — many of the most powerful people in the world. Yet, contrary to myth, very few Neocheaters are found among successful business people or professionals involved in producing and delivering objective values. And now all ordinary people can dismiss Neocheating to profit greatly with the much more powerful knowledge of Neo-Tech. ...I must think about Neo-Tech more deeply. New ways for ordinary people to gain power and advantages are bombarding me faster than I can analyze them.

January 1977

I feel an accelerating pull towards power as I continually discover new ways that anyone can effectively apply this powerful knowledge to any winning situation — in gaming, business, communications, investments, personal and social life. This quantum-leap breakthrough will let anyone profit constantly, for the rest of his or her life.

February 1977

Every day, I'm learning more and more to apply Neo-Tech in all areas of life. I'm discovering how to profit everywhere. Neo-Tech truly helps a person achieve confidence and happiness while removing the financial and social pressures.

March 1977

The application of Neo-Tech to everyday business and personal relationships is becoming increasingly real. In fact, Neo-Tech can be used in any confrontation involving two or more people. But any Neocheater who confronts the Neo-Tech person is finished. The Neo-Tech person can financially and emotionally control whomever he deals with. The strength and dimensions of Neo-Tech with its infinite applications reach far beyond my previous thoughts.

April 1977

What have I created here? Can Neo-Tech control all strength and dimensions of Neo-Tech with its infinite applications reach far beyond my previous thoughts.

April 1977

What have I created here? Can Neo-Tech control all business, personal, and love relationships? Yet, here lies the greatest value of the Neo-Tech Discovery: It is not at all like those inspirational, temporary, self-help type values that lead to nothing. ...People can immediately use Neo-Tech to live happy, honest, profitable lives. It is a permanent value that endlessly grows — a value that continually grows, expands, and enlarges for the rest of a person's life.

May 1977

I'm realizing how the Neo-Tech Discovery can lead anyone to a personal renaissance. Would that eventually mean a worldwide renaissance? ...Could our futures depend on understanding the concepts of Neo-Tech?

December 1980

After four years of concentrated research, I've come to realize that Neo-Tech could eliminate external authority and mysticism everywhere, permanently. ...The power of Neo-Tech is coming together almost too fast. But an even greater power is looming — a mind boggling power inconspicuous except to those who know about Neo-Tech.

January 1982

I'm learning the full meaning of Neo-Tech power: All will yield to the new-breed Neo-Tech person, the no-limit man or woman. ...Truly great days are coming.

Current Comment from Frank R. Wallace

Every day I see and hear of Neo-Tech bringing personal power and financial prosperity to those acquiring its knowledge. In this country and abroad, I am witnessing the beginning of a new era with the unstoppable rise of the Neo-Tech person. Those without the tools of Neo-Tech will gradually become uncompetitive in every situation, left behind not knowing what is happening. ...Neo-Tech is the fast-track ticket to tomorrow's prosperity. In fact, Neo-Tech is the only ticket to tomorrow's prosperity.

(End of NTP Report — Information to acquire the Neo-Tech Information Package is provided below)

"THOSE WITHOUT NEO-TECH WILL DIE UNFULFILLED ...WITHOUT EVER KNOWING WEALTH, POWER, AND ROMANTIC LOVE"

When Dr. Frank R. Wallace and his co-workers completed a five-year research project on Neo-Tech, they prepared a comprehensive, two-volume, half-million-word Information Package that fully reveals all facets of the Neo-Tech Discovery. That Information Package reduces the techniques of Neo-Tech into powerful but surprisingly easy formats that let anyone profit from almost any competitive situation. Neo-Tech also protects a person from being beaten by others, from being hurt during dangerous personal or financial situations. ...Neo-Tech gives a person everything he or she needs for financial prosperity, genuine power, Psychuous advantages, and romantic love.

The public can now acquire, directly from I & O Publishing Company, the complete 632-page Neo-Tech Information Package for becoming unbeatable in competitive, money, power, or love situations. Both Neo-Tech volumes I and II describe every step and every situation in detail with over 200 concepts. Those concepts are accompanied with how-to, real-life situations.

Each concept is packaged in a crisp, self-contained consultant capsule. A quick-find index of over one-thousand subjects lets the reader go straight to the concepts that apply most to his immediate wants and needs. (A full-length article in "Writer's Digest" is devoted to the new techniques I & O used to construct this index. Also, the "Writer's Digest Yearbook" recommended and published the standards used by Frank R. Wallace in his research and writings.)

To receive the complete 632-page Neo-Tech Information Package (volumes I and II), send your check or money-order for $69.95 postpaid.

FEELING TRAPPED?

This individual grew up dreaming of the future. He's basically optimistic. He knows things are better now than they were 20 years ago, and he figures the next 20 will see even greater changes. Meanwhile, he feels trapped by death, disease, aging, gravity wells, and people that try to impede all the progress that he sees as so desirable. He knows that if he can make it through the next fifty years, he probably won't have to worry about the following 500. He can live that future he's dreamed about.

We bring a ray of light to this person (and keep him up-to-date on that progress that's so important). CLAUSTROPHOBIA, the monthly life-expansion newsletter, covers scientific breakthroughs that will expand and enhance your life. The emphasis is on life extension, space industrialization, and related technical and medical fields. We concentrate on reporting new developments, new applications, and new ways to get around those who would restrict their use. Our news items generally appear months before the popular science magazines. Our writers include Durk Pearson, Sandy Shaw, Thomas Donaldson, Neal Wilgus, Sam Konkin, John Mann, Tom Brosz, Erwin Strauss, and many others.

We're going as far as we can, as fast as we can, for as long as we can.

It's only $15 for 12 monthly issues. Plus, you'll be kept up-to-date on the latest science books available from Claustrophobia's book service: Technophilia Books - currently offering over a hundred selections on topics including life-extension, space exploration, space colonization, futurism, intelligence, and cosmology. Free catalog with first issue or on request.

THE LIFE EXPANSION NEWSLETTER

WHY I AM RESISTING DRAFT REGISTRATION

By Paul Jacob

Selective Service television commercials tell the American people that draft registration is "no big deal." But on December 6, 1984, three FBI agents entered my home uninvited, arrested me and took me away in handcuffs.

My "crime" — if one calls it a crime — is refusing to sign my name on a draft registration form. Unlike Selective Service, the FBI seemed to think registration was a very big deal. I agree. Draft registration is a big deal and a bad deal for young men and for America.

The draft has no place in America's tradition of individual freedom. As the great statesman Daniel Webster said, "The question is nothing less than whether the most essential rights of personal liberty shall be surrendered and despotism embraced in its worst form." Webster saw the draft as involuntary servitude, later made unconstitutional by the Thirteenth Amendment.

In a 1980 letter to Senator Mark Hatfield, Ronald Reagan said, "The draft or draft registration destroys the very values our society is committed to defending." These "values" have since been abandoned by Mr. Reagan, but not by the thousands who continue to resist.

Not only is the draft repugnant to the very freedom for which thousands have flocked to this country, but registration is an insult to young people. The draft implies that we are too cowardly or too unpatriotic to defend our homes unless threatened with prison sentences. When have the young ever failed to defend this country? Young men in the past volunteered to sacrifice life and limb in World I, World War II, Korea, and even Vietnam.

The draft, on the other hand, is a way to drag young men to foreign military interventions that they may have no stake in, nor any cause to fight. In my lifetime, thousands were forced from homes and families and sent to kill or be killed on the other side of the world. The freedom of choice to say no to unjust wars is an important check on the politicians ability to involve us in such conflicts and in fact is . . . what makes a mere stretch of dirt precious and therefore worth defending.

I cannot in good conscience register with such an unjust, un-American, unnecessary and extremely dangerous institution as the draft. My signature on a draft form would be a sign of approval and I do not approve. By resisting this law I am, in my sincere belief, defending my country.

Like a million others, I refused to comply with draft registration. Only 17 men have been prosecuted for draft resistance; all spoke out publicly against the draft. It is indicative of the injustice of forced military service that for such a program to succeed the government feels it necessary to trample on free speech. Unable to enforce compliance, the government is trying to enforce silence. [The Supreme Court ruled Tuesday, March 19, that the prosecution of only 17 was not unconstitutional nor did it violate their right of free speech.]

In 1981, when threatened with prosecution, I left Arkansas and went "underground." I did not want to be imprisoned or to be a martyr.

For two years I lived as a fugitive. But I came home. Every human being has the freedom, by right, to be with loved ones. I could no longer do without this freedom, even if it caused me to risk arrest. It might have been legally easier for me if I had turned myself in, but the day never came that would have been better spent in government halls with federal agents than at home with my wife and our infant daughter. I simply wanted to live as a "totally" free man, at least until the time that freedom was forcibly taken from me. On December 6, 1984, that day unfortunately came.

Why would I risk five years in prison to fight against what the Selective Service would have us believe is "just registration?" Simply put, it isn't just registration, it's registration for the draft. Registration is the essential first step toward sending draft notices. Moreover, it is an important political test to determine if the public will stand for a draft.

I see no reason to wait for Selective Service to begin forcing young men into the Army before taking action — that is the agency's only purpose. All of us have a duty to stand up for what we believe is right and against what is wrong. The draft is wrong, and I will not be any part of it.

The Soviet Union has a military draft. Poland, Czechoslovakia and Libya do. Chile is drafting both men and women. South Africa has a draft, as do Nicaragua and the Philippines. Iran makes use of the draft.

These are the kinds of governments that draft their citizens. I want America to be different.

Paul Jacob, 25, is one of 18 individuals who refused to register for the Selective Service. An articulate speaker, Jacob was the first chair of the Arkansas Libertarian Party. When indicted by the Justice Department, he went underground and spent over a year hiding from the authorities. Arrested and put on trial, his case is currently on appeal.

BACKGROUND ON THE MENCKON AWARDS

FREE PRESS ASSOC. AWARDS MENCKIES FOR THE FOURTH YEAR

For the fourth year in a row, the Free Press Association will present its annual Mencken Awards during the Future of Freedom Conference.

Described as a "libertarian Academy Award show" in Update, the Mencken Awards ceremony once again promises to be a glittering, entertaining, suspense-filled multimedia event, with nationally prominent journalists on hand both to announce and to accept the awards. The ceremony will take place during the Saturday Night banquet on Oct. 26, immediately before the tribute to Karl Hess.

So far, confirmed Mencken Award presenters include nationally syndicated cartoonist Scott Stantis, who won last year's Best Cartoon award; Reason magazine book editor Lynn Starlett, who will present the Best Book category; and FPA Executive Director Michael Grossberg, a Southern California newspaper reporter and movie/theatre critic. Master of ceremonies will be Cable News Network radio commentator Jeff Rigenbach.

Selected annually by FPA journalists, the Mencken Awards offer invaluable peer recognition of outstanding journalism in defense of individual rights. There are five categories: Best News Story or Investigative Report, Best Feature Story or Essay, Best Editorial, Best Cartoon, and Best Book.

This year's Best Book finalists include Jonathan Kwitny for Endless Enemies, Jane Jacobs for Cities and the Wealth of Nations, Charles Murray for Losing Ground, Maddox and Lilie for Beyond Liberal and Conservative, and Herbert Stern for Judgment in Berlin. Finalists in the other categories will be announced soon.

Founded in 1981, the Free Press Association is an international network of journalists and freelance writers committed to the defense of "free media and free markets." The group explores and debates "cutting edge" First Amendment rights issues: Like privatization of the airwaves to give the broadcast media full First Amendment parity. Like abolition of the SEC's power to regulate—and censor—financial newsletters. And like opposition to "temporary" media controls and censorship typically imposed by governments during wartime or during such recent military "incidents" as Grenada and Lebanon.

Besides sponsoring the Mencken Awards, the FPA publishes a newsletter, distributes press cards to its freelance members, sponsors panels on media deregulation, and recently has launched an op-ed program on First Amendment issues targeted at journalism trade magazines and select newspapers. For more information, write FPA, Box 1743, Apple Valley, CA 92307.

'GUERRILLA CAPITALISM' THE SILENT TAX PROTEST

By Barry Reid

As a publisher of books with libertarian content but without the label, I have often been asked why I wasn't also "concerned" about the tax protest movement. I have usually pointed out that clever individuals concentrated more on making money discreetly and privately, and that through their low-profile methods, they were able to avoid nasty confrontations with the tax authorities. I have pointed out that the tax codes offered so many loopholes anyway, that it seemed almost masochistic to want to challenge the system so bluntly.

A candid conversation with one of the leading figures in the tax protest movement, Dr. Martin Larson, convinced me that what I had suspected was in fact true. Specifically, the "real" tax protest movement is both silent and invisible. It is the activities of millions of individuals who have simply opted out of the visible economy in order to conduct their enterprises privately and, as a result, profitably. They are the people of the so-called underground economy, practicing what I call "guerrilla capitalism."

I have collected very detailed information on ways people are able to conduct profitable enterprises completely out of sight and knowledge of those who would be the first to regulate, control, tax, and perhaps destroy those enterprises. Just as in warfare, these guerrillas have chosen the weapons and place of battle to their own advantage. Their successes fuel an economy which is huge, growing rapidly, and provides unquestionably the most eloquent form of tax protest.

SELF-GOVERNMENT ADVOCATES

5533 E. Swift, Fresno, CA 93727 (209) 292-1776

Dear libertarian friend...

Are you disgusted with the failure of our ideas to capture the public's imagination? I am. So I've decided to do something about it, and by jimmies, it's working! Let me tell you about it.

Early this year, Virgil Swearingen was in a quandary. He'd become a libertarian and wanted to share his ideas with some friends. But he had real anxiety—libertarianism is so bold that he didn't know how to explain it without arguing.

As he looked back at his own political odyssey, he found no answer. His own route to libertarianism was too haphazard to use for somebody else.

Then in March, Virgil heard about a concept I was testing. I had four non-libertarians meeting weekly to scrutinize ideas. My "scrutinizers" agreed to study long enough to make a decision—discover they are libertarian or know why not.

Virgil tried my technique, improved it, and within seven weeks he had five new libertarians.

Now this is small potatoes until we get thousands of libertarians into the discovery game. So I've started the Self-Government Advocates to do just that. Here's what others are saying:

Murray Rothbard: Marshall has tremendous ability, energy and dedication. I wish the Advocates big success. Peter Bruggin: The Advocates is what the movement needs—a grass roots organization, enthusiastically promoted, which will DISCOVER and NURTURE new libertarians. Rich Maybury: I've never seen anyone better at marketing our ideas than Marshall. He does more; he's at his best teaching other libertarians how to do it too.

Are you ready: To bring friends into the movement, or do you need to be eccentric? To feel a sense of accomplishment, or do you need fulfillment and anger? For teamwork, or do you need infighting? Finally, are you ready for the triumph of the libertarian movement, or not?

I hope you're ready—for exciting new satisfaction as a libertarian. Find out now. Send a fully refundable $25.00 and get your copy of the Libertarian Discovery Kit. You receive:

- The debut issue of HOW TO magazine. Speed up your discoveries by guiding scrutinizer group.
- Audio-cassette of my breakthrough speech. Get 40 percent of a lay audience to give their addresses.
- 6 issues of LIBERATOR. Stay informed of latest developments from the Advocates.
- The 12-page Advocate Business Plan. Examine the entrepreneurial approach to redirecting the libertarian movement toward growth.

This is worth more than $25, but here's a bonus: three copies of Robert Ringer's Restoring The American Dream, original edition, hardbound, perfect for gifts, sold for $12.50—free if you answer two questions.

1. What did you like about this advertisement?
2. How could it be improved?

Yours for a growing libertarian movement.

Marshall Fritz

PS: Send $25 by Sept. 30 and I guarantee you will find five new libertarians by Thanksgiving, or I will refund your money. You keep everything as my thanks for trying!

U.S. DOCTOR HELPS AFGHAN FREEDOM FIGHTERS

The last time Dr. Robert R. Simon treated patients, he hiked across the Hindu Kush to reach them. That was in May, 1984 when the California surgeon became the first American doctor to enter Afghanistan with the resistance fighters battling the Soviet troops that occupy their country.

Simon, 34, crossed the mountains dividing Pakistan from Afghanistan and provided medical treatment for more than a month to Afghan villagers and the guerrillas, or mujahideen, in Kunar province. His temporary clinic was about 40 miles inside Afghanistan in the rocky valley where temperatures regularly topped 100 degrees.

Upon his return, Simon began to set up field surgery units in guerrilla-controlled areas. He hopes to raise a half-million dollars to establish eight camps.

Simon, assistant professor of emergency medicine at the University of California in Los Angeles, said his effort is not political but to meet "a desperate medical need" in Afghanistan, which was invaded by Soviet troops in December 1979. There are about 110,000 Soviet troops occupying the country, according to the U.S. State Department.

Simon said he saw patients with symptoms of chemical poisoning and has "no doubt" the Soviets are using chemicals in their fight against the Moslem guerrillas. He said he performed reconstructive surgery on Afghans wounded by exploding mines and bombs, including an infant with shell fragments in its buttocks. He said he treated children for malaria, tuberculosis, measles and whooping cough.

Some of his patients claimed they had been tortured by Soviet troops. He said he saw one old man who had lost all his toes because Soviet troops had forced him to stand outside in the cold without shoes for several hours. A young boy with burns on his arms said he had been set afire by Soviet soldiers trying to extract information from his parents about the location of the Mujahideen.

Dr. Simon created an organization called "The International Medical Corps" and has some 250 volunteer doctors, nurses and medical personnel scheduled to go to Afghanistan.

Dr. Simon's will speak about the "Medical Crisis in Afghanistan" on Sunday at the Future of Freedom Conference.

INDIVIDUAL RIGHTS

by Carl Watner

Now available is a powerfully leveraged, 12,000-word, researched and documented weapon for defending yourself against the threatening forces of government. This work was conceived, developed, and written by Carl Watner whom Dr. Frank R. Wallace considers "the most potent and innovative writer on the value-questing scene today."

Those 32-pages of crucial information will serve and protect you all your life for a total cost of $9.95. That price is less than the few pages of just one issue of most financial newsletters whose value, at best, lasts but a few days or weeks before a new fix is needed.

New Book Edited By Robert Poole

Unnatural Monopolies, edited by Robert Poole, is the first book to question whether the production and delivery of electric power, telephone service, and cable television are natural monopolies, as they have long been assumed.

Robert Poole's speech at the Future of Freedom Conference will challenge the basic principles underlying public utility regulation, arguing that these enterprises are unnatural monopolies and must be open to competition.

Recently published, Unnatural Monopolies has received critical acclaim. FCC Chairman Mark Fowler has called the book "an important contribution to the discussion of a leading regulatory issue of our time." Arthur Laffer says, "This is an exciting addition to the momentous debate over deregulation...I liked the book a lot."

George Mason University

AUSTRIAN ECONOMICS

at the Center for the Study of Market Processes

Carl Menger

THE UNIVERSITY. George Mason University, the state university in Northern Virginia, is located in Fairfax, just fifteen miles from Washington, D.C. Twelve thousand undergraduate and two thousand graduate students currently pursue degrees at George Mason. The University stresses interdisciplinary studies, and houses the prestigious Institute for Humane Studies, a "think-tank" of interdisciplinary scholarship.

THE ECONOMICS DEPARTMENT. The economics faculty is highly respected in both academic and business circles. It includes several renowned figures—such as James Buchanan, Charles Rowley, Robert Tollison, Gordon Tullock, and Walter Williams. The Center for the Study of Public Choice and The Center for the Study of Market Processes are both located at George Mason. Three academic journals—Journal of Labor Research, edited by James Bennett, Public Choice, edited by Gordon Tullock, and The International Journal of Law and Economics, edited by Charles Rowley—are published at the University.

THE CENTER FOR THE STUDY OF MARKET PROCESSES. CSMP is a private, non-profit organization dedicated to furthering research and education in Austrian economics. The Center comprises six faculty members and over twenty students. The faculty members are Don Boudreaux, Richard Fink, Jack High, Don Lavoie, George Selgin, and Karen Vaughn. CSMP programs include:

- A weekly colloquium devoted to discussing current research of interest to Austrian economists. The colloquium is co-sponsored by the Institute for Humane Studies, which helps give the colloquium a broad, interdisciplinary focus.
- A working paper series, consisting of on-going research manuscripts by Austrian economists.
- Financial aid to qualified students, for the support of academic study and original research. Priority is given to students who perform well in the required courses and who demonstrate an interest in Austrian economics.
- A newsletter, Market Process, containing articles and news of interest to Austrian economists.
- Guest Speakers, which have included such distinguished economists as Friedrich Hayek, Israel Kirzner, Ludwig Lachmann, Brian Loasby, and Leland Yeager.

THE AUSTRIAN ACADEMIC PROGRAM. The department offers a one-semester undergraduate course and two one-semester graduate courses devoted to the study of Austrian economics. In addition, the department offers the opportunity to specialize in Austrian economics by offering a field examination, which counts as part of the Ph.D. requirements.

Books on the PRACTICE of Freedom

THE SURVIVAL RETREAT

By Ragnar Benson

Ragnar Benson, a survivalist author known for his practical perspective, brings a fresh, new approach to retreat defense — the concealed, low-profile survival retreat aimed at winning battles by avoiding them! This book tells you exactly how to achieve retreat security without having to arm yourself to the teeth. Contents include: Retreat Design and Location, Transportation, Who is the Enemy, The Psychology of Defense, Beyond Firepower, The Defensible Retreat, And Much More! 5 1/2 x 8 1/2, 136 pp., photos, soft cover. $9.00.

GUERRILLA CAPITALISM

How to Practice Free Enterprise in an Unfree Economy

by Adam Cash

A how-to-do-it book on the underground economy! How to do business "off the books" tax free! How to avoid banks, how to "skim" cash, and evade the IRS. What good is "believing in" free enterprise if you don't practice it? 5 1/2 x 8 1/2, 172 pp., illustrated, soft cover. $9.95

ADVANCED INVESTIGATIVE TECHNIQUES FOR PRIVATE FINANCIAL RECORDS

By Richard Nossen

A manual written for government revenue agents to teach them how to snoop into your private financial records and nail you for tax evasion! See how access is gained to checking and savings accounts, safe deposit boxes, foreign bank accounts, loan files, brokerage accounts, credit card records, property records, and much more! Learn how agents assemble the puzzle of your financial life and what you can do to thwart them! Large 8 1/2 x 11, 86 pp., illustrated, soft cover. $10.00.

THE MYTH OF NATURAL RIGHTS

By L.A. Rollins

Finally, a book that exposes and explodes the myth of those imaginary protectors of freedom: "natural rights"! L.A. Rollins dissects the arguments for natural rights, cutting through the faulty logic to the core of libertarian dogma. With thorough research and documentation, Rollins shows that defenders of natural rights like Rand, Rothbard, Machan and Konkin not only sidestep reason, but also violate the standards they set for themselves! This long overdue book is must reading for libertarians! 5 1/2 x 8 1/2, 50 pp., bibliography, soft cover. $4.95.

TOTAL RESISTANCE

By Major H. von Dach Bern

A book which should be in the library of every American. A detailed manual for resisting the occupation of a foreign army, written by a Swiss Army officer. A testament to the undying spirit of human freedom and resistance to tyranny. The best fact-crammed guerrilla warfare manual ever written! 6 x 9, 173 pp., profusely illustrated, hard cover. $14.95.

THE CODE BOOK

2nd Edition
All About Unbreakable Codes and How to Use Them

By Michael E. Marotta

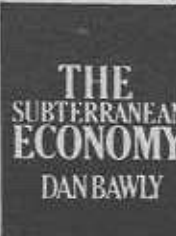

Protect your communications with codes that can't be broken! No prior knowledge of mathematics is needed! One-time pads, Modulo based codes, Rivest functions, public key systems, one-way codes, much more! Secrets known only to professional cryptographers and international espionage agents, revealed for YOU to use! 5 1/2 x 8 1/2, 86 pp., illustrated, soft cover. $7.95.

THE SUBTERRANEAN ECONOMY

By Dan Bawly

The underground economy is the result of bloated government and inflation. The cash-and-barter system includes everything from moonlighting to multinational dealings. This book explores the growing phenomenon of tax evasion and shows who evades taxes, where they do it, why they do it, and how they do it. 6 x 9, 204 pp., hard cover. $14.95

NATIVE AMERICAN ANARCHISM

By Eunice Minette Schuster

James J. Martin called this, "The only work of merit by an American on native anarchism." Eunice M. Schuster follows the rise and fall of this notorious movement. Read about the efforts to free the slaves without war, the new-age communities formed on anarchist principles, the early battles for women's rights and sexual freedom, the assassination of President McKinley, and the deportation of America's leading anarchists. A painstakingly documented, well-written history of this country's most radical political group. 5 1/2 x 8 1/2, 202 pp., indexed, bibliography, soft cover. $9.95.

VONU

The Search for Personal Freedom

By Rayo; Edited by Jon Fisher

Rayo was an early pioneer of libertarian theory. He coined the term "vonu" (invulnerability to coercion), and discussed non-political means of achieving freedom here and now. His writings appeared in the late 60's and early 70's in obscure underground journals. Now Jon Fisher has collected together the best of Rayo's articles. This book covers the theory of vonu as well as the practice, drawing on Rayo's experience as a van nomad and wilderness dweller. 5 1/2 x 8 1/2, 112 pp., illustrated, soft cover. $5.95.

Loompanics Unlimited

When You Want The Best!

THE RIGHT TO BE GREEDY

For Ourselves

This is a reprint of the underground classic written in 1974 by a group of Situationists in San Francisco. This thought-provoking work is a communist defense of greed and selfishness: an attempt to liberate Karl Marx with Max Stirner. It proposes to explain that egoism is the highest form of communism, that revolutionaries must be "in it for themselves," that all morality is a form of self-sacrifice, and that the true egoist transcends his petty material desires for a more rewarding form of self-fulfillment. One of the most challenging books you will ever read! 5 1/2 x 8 1/2, 94 pp., soft cover. $5.95.

UNINHABITED AND DESERTED ISLANDS

By Jon Fisher

Looking for a place to start a libertarian community? Or just want to get away from it all? This fascinating new book describes more than 100 remote uninhabited islands from the South Pacific to the Antarctic, from the Atlantic to the Indian Ocean, with maps detailing the exact location of each island! 5 1/2 x 8 1/2, 120 pp., illustrated, soft cover. $7.95.

NEW I.D. IN AMERICA

By Anonymous

All-new info from a pro on how to get a bona fide birth certificate, passport, drivers license, credit cards, Social Security number — all you need to break with your past. Learn to project exactly the image you want and prove you are who you say you are! 5 1/2 x 8 1/2, 44 pp., illus., soft cover. $10.00.

JOB OPPORTUNITIES ON THE BLACK MARKET

By Burgess Laughlin

The "black" market is the real market driven underground by government regulation. This classic book (now in its 3rd printing) is the best book available on the illegal, but victimless, economy. Covers pay, organization, risks, advancement, culture, society, prices and benefits, as well as retailers, wholesalers, middlemen, entrepreneurs, and all their assistants. Everything from drugs, sex and people smuggling to gambling and milk bootlegging. If it's black market, it's in this book! 5 1/2 x 8 1/2, 144 pp., illustrated, soft cover. $9.95

SAVE YOUR LICENSE!

A Driver's Survival Guide

By Gene Mason

This book will help you avoid tickets, fines, "points," and higher insurance premiums. It explains in detail how to avoid the appearance of speed, how to counter radar, and how to instantly spot any police vehicle. A must for every driver who has lost enjoyment in driving because of the absurd 55 mph speed limit. Order your copy now, before Smokey hammers you down again. 5 1/2 x 8 1/2, 144 pp., hard cover. $10.95.

HOW TO START YOUR OWN COUNTRY

Brand-New, Revised & Expanded Edition

A libertarian country? Yes, this daring approach to freedom has been tried many times in recent years. This exciting new book tells the story of dozens of new country projects, and explains the options available to you. Covers diplomacy and national defense, establishing sovereignty, raising funds, recruiting settlers, the 5 approaches for starting a country most likely to succeed, and more, including names and addresses of current projects. Includes over 100 pages of fascinating case histories illustrated with dozens of rare photographs! 5 1/2 x 8 1/2, 174 pp., illustrated, indexed, soft cover. $7.95.

COVERT SURVEILLANCE & ELECTRONIC PENETRATION

Edited by William B. Moran

A how-to-do-it manual for government agents, this book details professional techniques for spying and eavesdropping. Topics covered include: Shadowing and tailing; Fixed and mobile surveillance; Vehicle surveillance; Body-mounted transmitters; Concealed microphones; Wiretapping; Telephone bugging; Intercepting computer data; And much more! Is Big Brother watching you? You bet he is, and this book tells you exactly how he does it! 5 1/2 x 8 1/2, 130 pp., illustrated, soft cover. $9.95

BLACK MARKETS AROUND THE WORLD

By Burgess Laughlin

More on the black market! Black marketeers are courageous fighters in the battle for freedom of economic acts between consenting adults. Illegal markets all over the world mean high-risk, high-pay situations for libertarian entrepreneurs! This exciting book surveys black markets in more than 2 dozen countries, including Ireland, North Korea, Netherlands, Sweden, West Germany, Poland, Turkey, Iran, Israel, Egypt, Zaire, Singapore, Burma, Thailand, the Soviet Union, Taiwan, and many more! 5 1/2 x 8 1/2, 84 pp., illustrated, soft cover. $4.95

NUCLEAR WAR SURVIVAL SKILLS

By Cresson H. Kearny

Originally published by the Oak Ridge National Laboratory, and suppressed by the U.S. Government, now revised and updated by the original author. This is not a book on "national defense." It does not advocate any government programs. What it does is tell you, as an individual, what to do to increase your chances of surviving a nuclear attack, without spending a lot of time and money on preparations. 8 1/2 x 11, illustrated, soft cover. $10.95

HOW TO HIDE ANYTHING

What do you have to hide? With little effort and small expense, you can hide cash, weapons, dope, and even people right in your own home — away from the menacing eyes of burglars, terrorists, government snoopers, neighborhood nose cases, or anyone! The world is a dangerous place now, and having safe places for your goods is essential. This book tells how to construct dozens of secret hiding places in your house and yard. Highly recommended. 5 1/2 x 8 1/2, 120 pp., illustrated, soft cover. $10.00
