

DO IT! VOTE!

ELECT SOMEONE! Sanction legalized robbery, kidnapping and murder by voting for candidate A or candidate B or anyone who sanctions taxation, forced busing, the draft or coercion.

Voting is fun. All you do is cast a vote for the favorite gun chamber of your choice and fire. Everyone plays this Russian roulette game, even those who vote for the losing candidate. That's right. Everyone gets a politician, no matter what a citizen does. This is like being mugged and then paying for the service. Let's hear it for VOTING ---"Bang!"

Imagine, in the 1972 presidential election, 90 million Americans, 62.5 percent of all eligible voters did not cast a ballot for Nixon. Isn't this great, a minority again elected our leader. Let's hear it for DEMOCRACY ---"Bang!"

A majority of those 90 million eligible voters did not vote for anyone. Instead, they voted with their feet; they abstained from voting. But the kind-hearted, Godfather government took it in stride and continued to care for everyone, even those who abstained from voting. This is what separates dictatorship from democracy. Under a dictatorship, if citizens are allowed to vote, they do not have the opportunity to vote for the lesser of evils. Instead, they vote for the evil candidate since only one is permitted to run.

Under a democracy, however, citizens have a choice to elect the lesser of two evils. And this is what they usually get; for the "Lesser of Two Evils - Evil!"

This is the beauty of democracy. No matter who wins the election, no matter if you opposed the bastard or not, everyone is compelled to participate with one's life, liberty and property.

Voting legalizes the programs of the winner to impose his lifestyles and economics onto everyone. Voting legalizes the government's activities; the same activities, if committed by a common citizen, would be grounds for imprisonment.

Voting is good for the State. Load the politician with voting powder. Vote, and blow off a friends head. He'll never forget you.
