

ISN'T FORCED BUSING JUST ANOTHER WORD FOR KIDNAPPING?

Photo by David Moore

You would think that most people would see it as bright as day. Forced busing is nothing more than KIDNAPPING--plain and simple.

If anyone were to forcibly take a child and transport him to another section of town without parental consent, that individual would be arrested, convicted and jailed as a KIDNAPPER. Yet the government, often with heavily armed guards, forcibly puts many children onto school buses daily without parental consent. Isn't this abduction? Isn't this KIDNAPPING? Isn't this just another example of the double standard of government?

LEC: Libertarians for Educational Choice
P.O. Box 4, Fullerton, CA 92632 U.S.A.

LEC is a division of Society for Libertarian Life.